

Two Mile House National School Policy on Mobile Phones

Mobile phones are prohibited in school except in exceptional circumstances. In each such exceptional circumstances parents must make a written request outlining the reason for necessity of phone. If a written request is granted the mobile phone must be switched off during school hours and remain in the child's schoolbag. If a child leaves the phone on they will be given one warning, subsequently their mobile phone will be confiscated for the remainder of the week.

If a child brings a phone to school without a written request from their parent the phone will be confiscated and remain in the school office for a week.

The school accepts no responsibility for the care or loss of the mobile phone
